TEST YOUR FIT

1

FIT YOUR CUPS

Raise hands above your head. If the band moves up, you may need to size down.

2

FEEL YOUR BAND

Your band should feel firm against your body, put one finger between you and your bra to check you're wearing the right size.

3

TEST YOUR STRAPS

If you can pull your strap up near your ears, you may want to go a band size down.

DID YOU KNOW?

GRAVITY DOESN'T LIKE YOU

Nothing personal, it's science. No matter your chest size, gravity can cause tissue damage while you move. Sports bras protect you from this.

THE BIGGEST FIT MISTAKE

Most women wear a band too big and a cup too small. Measuring yourself is key to getting your size just right.

EVERYDAY BRA vs SPORTS BRA

Sports bras are designed to take on more impact—this is why the band should fit slightly firmer than your everyday bra.

PHYSICS AFFECTS EVERYONE

Motion causes breasts to move in a figure eight, and cupped designs can provide higher support for bigger breasts. Goodbye, bounce.
